Dear Parents and Carers,

Lots has been happening in school this week. Teachers have been busily planning engaging and challenging lessons and the children are well and truly back in the swing of learning. Our Roald Dahl day was really successful with a wide variety of activities.

Inspired by his book 'Revolting Recipes', Year 2 made a simple version of a Schnozzcumber and then wrote up their own recipes for them.

We had two Workshops this week. Jaime and Jamie hosted one on our new behaviour System. The turnout was fantastic, so thank you to all who came. They were able to explain in detail how the rewards and sanctions work and the parents and carers were able to ask questions and clarify any queries.

Caroline and Jaime hosted a Phonics workshop and again the turnout was really good. There will be plenty of others happening over the year, so keep your eyes peeled for dates in the Newsletter and posters around the school.

Walking Bus

What a successful start! Faunce Street has been much safer and less congested each morning. If you want to start using our service, just take your child to the top of Faunce Street at 8:45 where staff will be waiting to walk them down to school.

Parent Mail - DEADLINE 2 WEEKS TO GO

Everything will now be coming to you via Parent Mail, so eventually when everyone is signed up we will become a paperless school!

School Governors

School Governors meet with Sarah and Elizabeth all through the school year to ask questions about how the school is run and about the progress of all our pupils. All Governors meet together once a term, there are also smaller committees that meet more regularly.

All the meetings happen after the children have gone home and it's really important that the Governors get the chance to see all the things we discuss in action as well as meeting the children and staff.

On Monday Beth and Mark will be coming to see our new behaviour system and British values in action. On Thursday Mary will be coming into find out how attendance and punctuality is going and to check that our safeguarding procedures are working well.

free Family Workshops

Southwark Council is offering two free family workshop courses on Family Maths, starting on Thursday 6th October to Thursday 15th December and Family Literacy, starting on Friday 7th October to Friday 16th December.

They both have FREE crèche places! If you are interested please contact Olive via the school office.

School Photos

On Friday 4th November there will be a photographer coming in to take individual and sibling photos for the whole school.

Have a safe and happy weekend!
